

Saved For A Reason

God did not send his Son to be humbled, mocked, killed and rejected, so that we could carve our names with pride in the history books of the world. He did not send his Holy Spirit so that we could drift through life seeking the easy options. And he doesn't part with a quantity of precious oxygen to allow us either to run after the world's business honours, or to fritter away our time in one leisure pursuit after another.

We are here to get the gospel published to every nation (Matthew 24:14; Mark 13:10). Everything else is secondary to this great commission. The end of the world is dependent on it.

And we can make a difference, if we want to.
