

CASUAL WEAR

In these days of ever-increasing casual wear, what happened in today's Gospel reading (Matthew 22 1-14) doesn't seem a very serious crime. But nothing is trivial with God.

He has not invested much time and effort in us only to condone a slipshod attitude on our part. We need to stir our spiritual stumps, and spring clean our ideas.

Casualness was all very well, before we came to Christ. We need now to forget it: it's bad news, for if we allow standards to fall in one part of our lives, they will also slip in other parts.
